GRAPE WITH RUBIES

Thomas Love Peacock once wrote: ‘The juice of the grape is the liquid quintessence of concentrated sunbeams.’ Images and depictions of grapevines have long adorned frescoes, altars, and the stained glass of churches. As the name suggests, Grapes with Rubies features a design with gold vines, pearl grapes and leaves dotted with tiny rubies and embedded jadeite. One of our most popular designs, this fragile piece symbolises fertility, abundance and wealth.

GRAPEVINE

Since the beginning of time, the grapevine has been recognised for its uplifting properties. The ability of vines to move into and grow under the most challenging circumstances traditionally signifies the determination, will and drive of the plant to survive against all the odds. Greeks used to believe that grapevine branches expand organically, showcasing to humans a quality to be able to take the path of least resistance. We will never learn and improve if we do not leave room to grow. These concepts can be applied to our social interactions as well as our ideas in business.

BUTTERFLY IN ORCHIDS

More fragile than the glass, the butterfly is a creature of marvel. Part of a family of insects called 'Lepidoptera', a word that means 'scaly wings' in Greek, it perfectly captures the butterfly because their wings are covered with thousands of tiny overlapping scales. Arranged in bold and colourful designs unique to each species, these iridescent wings are what give butterflies their singularity. The orchid too is a masterful creation and thought to be the most evolved of all flowering plants. Together, these items of nature are rendered on the card in a complex formation of precious and semi-precious stones.
